PROBING NEW HAVEN WRECK FROM ALL SIDES

Death of Engineer, Fireman and Brake- man Will Handicap Inquiry

(Special to The Herald)
New Haven, Feb. 23.—Investigation under four separate heads were begun here today to determine the responsibility for the wreck at Milford yesterday noon on the New Haven railroad short line division, in which ten persons were killed, and over sixty seriously injured. Harry Schaeffer, 19, of 102 James street, this city, died about three o'clock this morning at the hospital where he was taken, suffering from terrible burns about the head and shoulders when he was hurled into the hot coals of the fire box of the locomotive which ran into the passenger train.

All of the investigators admit that they are handicapped because William Curtis, pilot of the passenger train, his fireman Edward McGuinness and George G. Tourtellotte of West Springfield, fireman of the train, were all killed in the wreck. On the face of the report received and statements given out by the railroad officials it seems probable that the wreck was caused by somebody's negligence, as it was stated that the block system was working properly and that two signals were set against the second train.

Coroner Eli Mix of New Haven county, in which the wreck occurred, ordered all of the train crews on the two passenger and freight trains to appear at his office for a hearing this forenoon.

In addition to the coroner's inquest the railroad officials continued their inquiry which started last evening in the general office building, and the Connecticut Public Utility Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission through G. C. McCord, were expected to open joint inquiries as soon as arrangements could be made.

At nine o'clock this morning Coroner Mix announced his inquest would be behind closed doors.

REUNION OF KITTERY HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI

Address of Welcome by President Calvin Dunbar Followed by Pleading Program.

The twenty-first annual reunion of the Kittery High School Alumni Association was held at Wentworth hall, Kittery, on Monday evening. The attendance was large, but not as much so as in former years, but the fraternal feeling which has marked former reunions was not lacking because of smaller numbers. It was just a happy and jolly crowd as ever. There were representatives present from nearly all the classes, from away back in the eighties to the present year.

Lander's orchestra of six pieces furnished music during the evening, and opened the program with the following: concert program: March, "La Gloria"; selection from the French opera, "The Midnight Girl"; waltz, "Wilma"; selections.

President Calvin D. Dunbar next made his address of welcome to the members, following which a short business session was held. The reports of the various officers were read, and new officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Stephen Hobbs; vice president, Mrs. Clarence M. Prince; secretary, Charles E. Prince; treasurer, George H. Marden.

At this time the Howell medals, gifts from the association to students at Traip Academy for excellence in English, were presented to the following: Freshman year, Verlie A. Webster; sophomore year, Miss Bertha A. Emery; junior year, Miss M. Elizabeth Anderson; senior year, Miss Clara M. Dixon.

An excellent musical and literary program, which had been arranged by the committee in charge, was given as follows: Tenor solo—"To Be Near You," Ernest L. Cook; Monologue—"Suburbanites," Miss Mae Leslie Warren; James Goddard; Flute solo, "The Dawn," Mr. Cook; Monologue—"What the Janitor Heard," Miss Warren.

PRESIDENT WARNS CONGRESS NOT TO INTERFERE

Will Not Tolerate Any Fooling With International Affairs—Submarine Warfare Very Grave

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, Feb. 23.—President Wilson has served a warning on Congress that he will not tolerate any interference at this time with the international relations of the United States. The situation, so far as the administration is concerned, is that any agitation in congress which could be construed as criticism of the state department must have an adverse effect among the belligerent European nations. The President and his conference with Senators Stone and Kern and Representative Flood on Monday night, told them that he had decided to force an "immediate show-down" with the Teutonic allies on the general question of submarine warfare. In effect, the President is understood to have said he did not intend making the slightest concession to Germany and Austria. He stands squarely on international law as at present understood. American citizens must have the right to travel at will on merchant vessels on the high seas. The President told the senate leaders that he would press for an agreement by the Teutonic powers; that he will exercise the right of warning, stoppage, and search before stopping any international relations, whether armed or unarmed, and he declared that if congress passes any resolution dealing either with warning to Americans to keep off these vessels or tries in any way to hamper citizens going anywhere they please on the high seas, he will veto the legislation. There is no attempt being made to disguise the belief in official circles that the situation is charged with grave concern. The President's new attitude will admit of no compromise. If advice from German circles reflect the feeling of the Germans, there is small chance of preventing a break, but the officials hope that the Germans will give in to the American contention that international law must be observed.

London, Feb. 23.—"Breaking of diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States will be followed by war. This is understood in Berlin. No other result of the severance of diplomatic ties is possible." This was the word brought to London by an American who came to the British capital by the way of Switzerland and France. He said that when he left Berlin, the Germans with whom he came in contact with were hopeful of an adjustment of the submarine issue but all were of the opinion that the German government would accept no dictation from the United States.

WOMEN SHOULD GET THIS HABIT AS WELL AS MEN

Don't Eat Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Glass of Hot Water.

Happy, bright, alert, vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured, only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nervous wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags," and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy, checked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons thus cleansing sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds, and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated, very often are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but, is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

New York, Feb. 22.—Ten persons were killed and 16 injured in a triple-headed smash, wrecking two New Haven passenger trains and a freight train near Milford, Ct., shortly before noon today. Reports at the offices of the road early this afternoon stated that the dead included four trainmen. The remainder were passengers.

Several of the injured were said to be in a serious condition. They were in the rear car of train No. 79, the express from Springfield, which was struck by special passenger train No. 5.

Injured passengers, it was said, are being taken to Bridgeport, by a passenger train which came upon the wreck after leaving that city.

Two special trains loaded with physicians and nurses left New Haven for the scene of the wreck. The New Haven refused to permit several reporters who applied to go to the scene on the special.

Among the dead are said to include the engineer of No. 79, who had gone back to protect his train, which had been stopped by a broken air pipe; Engineer Curtis and Fireman McGuinness of the engine of No. 5 and a man and a woman passenger of No. 5, whose bodies have been seen under the wreckage.

It is said the flagman of No. 79 lost his life in a futile attempt to stop the onrushing No. 5 running up the track so close to the engine that he could not escape. His body was cut to pieces. The rear-end collision followed a moment later.

Drawn by Motor Engine
No. 79 was drawn by a motor, while No. 5 special, which had been made up at New Haven shortly after the other train had left, was drawn by a locomotive.

At the time of the collision a freight train was running west on the next track. When the smash came a passenger coach was forced over against the freight train. The boiler of No. 5 exploded, throwing wreckage in every direction, especially upon the moving freight train. The engine of No. 6 was thrown down the embankment to the right and it was followed by the first two coaches of No. 5. Three rolled over and over before touching the bottom.

Bodies Under Car.

The tracks within a moment were piled high with wreckage. As soon as the dust cleared away and unhurt passengers were able to walk through the snow to the overturned cars, the bodies of a man and a woman were seen under a car. It was not believed that any one was fatally hurt. In No. 79, most of the passengers in No. 5 were from Hartford and New Haven and way points. These passengers, it was understood, would have taken the regular express from New Haven to New York, had the Boston express, due at New Haven shortly after 11 o'clock been on time, its schedule having been disarranged by the weather. The company made up a special train for these passengers, most of whom probably were bound for points between New Haven and New York.

The New Haven road had a wrecking train at the scene in 30 minutes and sent a call for physicians and nurses to both New Haven and Bridgeport. In both cities there was a quick response. Shortly after 12 o'clock injured passengers were being taken by special trains both to New Haven and Bridgeport.

ANOTHER RESORT IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

GRAY'S INN AT JACKSON A PREY TO FLAMES AND BURNED FLAT LATE MONDAY AFTER NOON.

Jackson, N. H., Feb. 22.—Gray's Inn, a well-known resort in the White mountains, was burned to the ground, with its casino late yesterday, and many of the 150 guests at the house joined the volunteer fire department in a vain effort to stay the flames. The loss was estimated at $100,000.

Most of the guests were outdoors taking part in the various sports in the snow when the fire was discovered and some of them lost the greater part of their personal effects. Many of them, however, were near enough to rush back to their rooms and save their belongings. Nobody was hurt and tonight all of the visitors were cared for in the neighboring resorts.

The hotel was a large three-story wooden structure with accommodations for 250 persons. It was situated on a hill commanding a broad outlook and the fire was visible for miles around.

The flames started in the attic, probably from spontaneous combustion of a defective chimney.

COLONIAL PARTY HELD ON MONDAY A PRETTY AFFAIR

FIFTY-FIVE LADIES WERE THE GUESTS AT UNIQUE AFFAIR AT HOME OF MRS. SHAW.

An unique and thoroughly enjoyable "Washington's Birthday" party was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Wilbur B. Shaw on Penhallow street, the Colonial evening being held by the members of the Missionary Society and the class of Mrs. William O. Sides of the Middle street Baptist Church. Fifty-five ladies were present, all in Colonial costume, many of the costumes being more than one hundred years old, having belonged to members of their families in Colonial times.

The house was beautifully decorated throughout, with flags, flowers and painted palms and plants, music being furnished during the entire evening by an orchestra rendering old time songs and patriotic airs. A reception was held during the early evening and later Colonial tableaux, Southern Plantation scenes and other interesting and clever pictures were presented. One of the features of the decorative scheme was the number of portraits of George Washington at various stages in his career.

The musical program included a solo by Miss Ethel Shannon who rendered "The Rosary" in an excellent and artistic manner. Miss Shannon was dressed in a costume which admirably fitted her number. The colonial minuet was finely presented by Mrs. Blanche Belle Taylor, while one of the big features of the evening was the staging of "An Old Southern Wedding" all of which were excellently carried out and fully appreciated by the many guests.

Light refreshments were served the guests later in the evening and the occasion was voted one of the most enjoyable that the class had held this season. The arrangements were planned and carried out under the direction of Mrs. Charles W. Taylor.

PIONEER MERCHANT DIED ON HOLIDAY

BENJAMIN F. MUGRIDGE PASSED AWAY AT HIS HOME AFTER A LONG ILLNESS, AT AGE OF 79 YEARS.

Benjamin F. Mugridge Sr., passed away at his home, 516 Middle street, late Tuesday afternoon, after a lingering illness, growing out of a hardening of the arteries, from which he had been in failing health for several years. Mr. Mugridge was in his seventy-ninth year, having been born on July 17, 1837.

His last serious illness commenced just following the Christmas holidays and he was soon confined to his bed, although he had been apparently much improved a short time before, being out of doors a few days before Christmas day. Pleuro-pneumonia developed about the first of February and left him in a weakened condition and he failed steadily until the end.

He was the son of John H. and Hannah (Smith) Mugridge of this city and was born in the large double house owned by the Webster heirs at the corner of Pleasant and Franklin streets, this being the family home. His father, John H. Mugridge, was a former well known shipbuilder of Portsmouth and Mr. Mugridge was the youngest and last survivor of a family of seven children. He was educated in the public schools of this city and made his home all his life, with the exception of a few years passed in California when a young man with his elder brother, John H. Mugridge, Jr., who had settled in that state.

Mr. Mugridge was one of the best known merchants of this city and was respected for his business ability and the unusual success in all his undertakings, which covered a period of nearly forty years. He was an ambitious and earnest worker and in the many years he was engaged actively in business he had seen changes in nearly every firm in this city.

At the time of his retirement he was the oldest merchant on Market street and one of the oldest store keepers in the city in point of years. His first undertaking in business was a store in what was known as the Brick Market, on Market square, the site now occupied by the New Hampshire National Bank building, when he formed a partnership in the meat business with Edwin B. Loughton of New Haven, Conn., formerly of this city. He later purchased Mr. Loughton's interest in the enterprise and conducted the business until he sold and started a grocery store on Pleasant street, in the building now occupied by George Woodard. He continued in business at that place for ten years when he disposed of it to former mayor John J. Lasky who continued the business for many years.

Mr. Mugridge later conducted a grocery and meat market for several years in the brick building on Market street now occupied by M. Siegel and later opened a grocery store at 101 Market street which business he continued until his retirement.

He also was proprietor of a clothing

FOR PORTSMOUTH AND PORTSMOUTH'S INTERESTS

Portsmouth, N. H., Wednesday, February 23, 1916.

A Worthy Undertaking.

Different religious denominations and the public generally will be interested in the effort to be made by the Episcopal church in the United States to provide for the retirement of its clergymen on pension at the age of about 70 years. The plan was outlined in an address a few days ago by one of the bishops of Massachusetts, who presented facts and figures designed to show the necessity and practicability of the undertaking. The figures showed that the average salary of the clergymen is $1,200 a year, which means that many have to serve for less. This precludes the possibility of laying up anything for old age and presents an uninviting outlook for the minister aware that he is nearing the end of his working days.

The church in figuring out a method of pensioning its clergy employed insurance experts, and it has been found that if the parishes will pay regularly 7 per cent more than the minister's salary it will enable all clergymen to retire at the age of 70 or a little less on half pay. This would mean much to ministers grown old in the service and would bring a sense of relief to the church, which fully realizes that the laborer is worthy of his hire, and that a man who has worked faithfully for a lifetime in the high calling of the ministry should not be compelled to face old age without suitable provision for his last days.

Such a scheme as this is far more commendable than the pensioning of public servants. The latter, as a rule, earn more in their offices and positions than they could in any other way, and it is their privilege and duty to provide for their own retirement. They fight for their positions and fight to retain them, which proves that they can do better in them than they could anywhere else, and in most cases there is no good reason why they should draw anything from the public treasury when they have finished their work.

It is different with the clergyman. As a rule his pay is small and his time is wholly taken by the duties of his high calling. He has no time to make money, and would not know how to do it if he had. He spends his active years in the service of the church, and the value of his labors cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

All will hope for the success of this effort on the part of the Episcopal church, which is similar to that inaugurated by the Methodist church. It is in the right direction and will, if successfully conducted, result in a vast amount of good without hardship or undue sacrifice on the part of those who provide the necessary funds.

The government has made a good beginning in the work of preparedness by refusing to be bulldozed by the armor plate manufacturers. Proper protection against the money sharks is something not to be overlooked in preserving the integrity of the United States, and those in charge of the preparedness program will do well to bear this fact constantly in mind.

There are laws against prize fighting in this country, but "boxing" is permitted, and at the coming bout in New York between Jess Willard, the heavyweight champion, and Frank Moran it is expected that 13,000 seats will be sold at an average price of $9. "There's millions in it," as Colonel Sellers was wont to say.

Canada has asked the British parliament to extend the term of the Dominion parliament for one year, as it is felt that it would be unwise to hold an election while the war is in progress. Many American office holders would be reconciled to perpetual war if it could be made to have such an effect upon their tenures.

Murder has been decreasing of late in New York city, where there were "only" 246 last year, as against 257 in 1914 and 286 in 1913. It looks, to judge from a recent celebrated case, as if capital punishment may be something of a deterrent, after all.

What will happen to those who have become so excited over the "hyphen" when the Irish get together in New York next month and begin to talk about the "complete breakdown of British misrule as the certain outcome of the present war?"

The government is contemplating the establishment of aerial mail service in Alaska and Massachusetts. Does this signify that these are the two leading sections or the most benighted points under the federal jurisdiction?

Because of pending legislation in favor of making the District of Columbia "dry" Representative Carey of Wisconsin proposes moving the national capital to Milwaukee. This clearly comes under the head of heroic treatment.

The Panama canal zone has been shaken by another earthquake, but it is said that no damage was done to the big ditch. Yet who knows to what extent such shake-ups may be responsible for slides that take place later?

D. R. FRANCIS AMBASSADOR TO RUSSIA

Rye Beach Summer Resident Accepts Appointment.

David R. Francis of St. Louis and Rye Beach, secretary of the Interior in Cleveland's cabinet and former governor of Missouri, told President Wilson Tuesday he would accept the post of ambassador to Russia to succeed George T. Marry, who has resigned. His nomination will be sent to the senate as soon as an inquiry can be made of the Russian government as to whether he is acceptable.

Mr. Francis called on the president during the day with Senator Reed of Missouri. Later he will confer with Secretary Lansing at the state department about his duties.

The president and Secretary Lansing attach unusual importance to the embassy at Petrograd at present because of questions growing out of the European war and problem of inspecting the large detention camps in Russia, in which are held thousands of war prisoners.

Mr. Francis was offered the post of ambassador to Argentina early in the present administration, but declined because of the press of personal business.

Mr. Francis was at Rye Beach at his summer home for some weeks, but not as much as is his usual custom, being detained in St. Louis on business for several weeks after his family arrived.

ENDORSE LOUIS BRANDEIS FOR SUPREME COURT

Zionist Council in Annual Convention in This City.

The second annual convention of the Zionist council of northern Massachusetts and southern New Hampshire was held Tuesday afternoon at Zion hall on State street, President Alex E. Wagman of Newburyport officiating. Forty delegates were present, representing the Zionist clubs of Manchester, Newburyport, Nashua, Lawrence, Haverhill and Portsmouth.

The exercises opened with an address of welcome by Louis Shapiro of this city, chairman of the committee on arrangements, in which he explained the purpose of the Zionist movement, stating that it was for the purpose of uniting all the Jewish forces of America on a truly representative basis to prepare for action in the great crises which will confront their race at the end of the war now raging in Europe.

Following this address the children of the Portsmouth Jewish school sang "America" and the regular order of business was then taken up. President Wagman read an official communication from Louis Lipsky, chairman of the executive committee of the American Federation of Zionists, officially recognizing the northern Massachusetts and southern New Hampshire Zionist council, and assuring it of the hearty co-operation and support of the national body.

The committee reported on the receipts of the recent tag day for the relief of the Jewish sufferers of the war zone made by members of the committee in the various cities represented in the council and the total amount was given as $8,032.03.

Announcement was made by the president that Philip Huskin of New York, a prominent leader in the Zionist movement, would speak before the Jewish people of this city March 1 on the Zionist movement.

Resolutions were passed congratulating Louis Brandeis on his recent selection by President Wilson for the supreme bench, and assuring him of the earnest support and co-operation of the Jewish people.

The officers of the Northern Massachusetts and southern New Hampshire council are as follows: President, Alex E. WITH NEIL O'BRIEN

Mr. Oscar Hodge, under whose solid direction Neil O'Brien and his Great American Minstrels are appearing, promises some things entirely new in minstrelsy when they make their appearance at the Portsmouth Theatre Friday evening.

Neil O'Brien, who shines a star particularly bright in the aggregation conceived by him and whose entire program was arranged and produced under his personal direction, has made ample provision for the talents possessed by such comedians as Eddie Ross and his African harp; Eddie MacLear, Billy Dunlap, Pete Detzel, Major Nowak, Ed. McMullen, Charles Strong and many others, who contribute a good share of the fun that makes for the success and popularity of the entertainment. In the unusually large company which Mr. Hodge has proved this season (ten more people than last) are included many possessors of exceptionally fine voices, chief among whom are D. D. Morris, the famous Welsh basso; Geo. F. Peduzzi, unrivalled female impersonator; Jns. Barad, Leslie Terry, Winfield Williams, Jonathan Hays, Don and Al Palmer and a score of trained characters.

"Darktown's Bravest Fighting the Flames," a screamingly funny farce written and produced by Mr. O'Brien, will be the chief fun-making vehicle in which he will be assisted by numerous members of the cast.

Everything new, but the title and a few of the old favorites this season, and a vestige of the jokes, songs, dances, sketches, costumes or equipment remains from last season.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.
The annual memorial mass for the deceased members of the Council was sung at the Immaculate Conception church on Tuesday morning, the Council attending in a body.

WENEHASA DEFEATED BERWICK ACADEMY

A fast interesting game, and one witnessed by a large gallery of basketball fans, played at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, Washington's Birthday afternoon, resulted in a victory for the Wenehasa Club against Berwick Academy by the decisive score of 61 to 37. Of the many points scored all but five were earned by caged baskets from the floor, three free tries going to the visitors and two to the Portsmouth organization. The game was clean all the way through, not a personal foul being charged against a player on either team.

The visitors from Maine put up a good strong game but they were clearly out-classed by the local players in every department of the game and at no time from the beginning to the end the final whistle sounded were they near the lead made by Wenehasa after the first few minutes of play.

The game opened hard and for several moments neither side were able to score although Butler repeatedly attempted shots, as did also Davis, seven in succession failing. But all coming close to success in. After five minutes of play Davis started things moving and after that they came easy until Wenehasa had scored 13 points, the Berwick boys failing to tally. The period ended with Wenehasa 17 points in the lead, and after that the visitors never had a chance although they showed some excellent team work.

Near the end of the second period, the score standing Wenehasa 42, Berwick Academy 20, Captain Butler replaced Mulholland, Craig and Smith with Akerman, Clark and Patterson. Portsmouth continued to out-play their opponents and the game was awarded to the local team by the big score.

For Wenehasa Butler and Davis featured with their excellent shooting, Carpenter and Driscoll excelling for the visitors.

Portsmouth Checker Players
Meet the Crack Players of the Hub.

Five well known local checker players, Everett M. Fisher, George A. Traflet, E. G. Hall, Frederick W. deRoche, and Charles W. Greene, journeyed to Boston on Tuesday where they took part in the checker tournament at the Boston Checker Club. The All-New England team was the only winners by a score of 170 to 150. Mr. deRoche was the only local man to make a clean score of four wins against M. J. Maguire. George Traflet was placed against President Taylor of the Dechester club, split by one of the strongest players in Greater Boston, and they broke with two apiece. In the games played afterwards between the two, it is said that Traflet had decidedly the better of the argument. M. Fisher won two, lost one, and one was a draw; E. G. Hall won one, one was a draw, and lost two. Charles W. Greene lost three with one a draw. Out of a possible twenty points, local players won nine, lost eight, with three draws games, which is considered a very good showing.

GERMANS CAPTURE 800 YARDS OF TRENCHES

Berlin, Feb. 22.—German troops have captured 800 yards of French trenches and 375 prisoners in fighting east of Soissons, the war office announced this afternoon.

Fighting is growing more violent on the Aisne and Champagne fronts, the war office announced.

"Northeast of Thurey, in the Champagne, a French grenade attack failed," said the official statement. "Lively actions are occurring along the Aisne and in the Champagne."

Paris, Feb. 22.—Seven German battalions, by a most violent attack against the French front in the Bois de Giverny region, carried more than half a mile of French first line trenches and also second line trenches in many places, the French war office admitted this afternoon.

The trenches occupied first line French positions on a front of more than 500 yards. By heavy counter attacks they were repulsed from practically all the second line positions. The war office reported the German losses were very heavy.

The Germans charged the French lines after a very violent artillery bombardment lasting several hours. The Germans hurled high explosive shells of all calibers and asphyxiating gas bombs. French first line trenches were blown to pieces at many places under the terrific bombardment.

The German infantry onslaught began late yesterday afternoon. Against a front of less than a mile the Germans hurled nearly 500 men in successive attacks. Into these thick columns the French played steady streams of shrapnel machine gun bullets and explosive shells that wrought terrible loss of life.

The German bombardment had failed to wreck the French second line positions. From their third line the French counter attacked and quickly drove the Germans out of much of the conquered ground.

Violent artillery fighting, indicating possibly the beginning of another German offensive, is continuing around Verdun. The war office admitted that the Germans succeeded in penetrating French first line trenches east of Verdun. German attacks east of Soissons in the Vosges, were repulsed.

German fliers have been most active along the entire front in the last 24 hours. A Zeppelin dropped bombs on Lannville last night, but did only slight damage, the war office asserted.

Turks Fleeing Before Slaves Menaced by Big British Force.

London, Feb. 22.—Fleeing back on a 210-mile front before the Russian advance, the Turks are now menaced from a new source by the movement of large bodies of British re-enforced troops up the Taurus toward Kut-el-Amara.

Well trained and equipped Indian troops in large forces are moving to reinforce Gen. Aylmer, 20 miles south-east of Kut-el-Amara. As soon as the weather permits these troops will advance to the relief of Gen. Townshend's beleaguered garrison at Kut, planning to push forward in a new offensive toward Bagdad.

The Turks are evacuating all of Armenia between Erzerum and Mush. Russian troops are following up their successes at the town of Khilms and advancing on the villages of Bash Chiklik and Oghnat.

Following up their victory energetically the Russians are pursuing the Turks westward from Erzerum, as well as to the north and south, as the Turkish forces have split and fled in all directions. The different Ottoman groups, according to Petrograd cables, have been cut off from communication with each other, while the Russians are declared to have solidified their own lines so that their advance is rapidly becoming a forward drive along an unbroken front from the Black Sea to Mosul.

West of Lake Van, on the north Taurus, the Russians have pushed close to the Black Sea port in their operations along the coast. Both on the center in the Erzerum district and on the widely extended northern and southern flanks the Russians are everywhere continuing with energy pursuit of the routed Turkish armies.

The Russian advance is having the effect not only of severing all connections between the isolated groups but of constantly strengthening communications of their own forces. Petrograd says that the Turks, evidently impressed with the headway the Russian forces are making, appear to be inspired with the sole aim of extricating themselves from their difficult position before they are surrounded, and are making no effort to hold endangered points now in their possession. With a minimum of resistance, consisting chiefly of perfunctory rear guard actions, the Turkish retreat is one of the most precipitate of the war.

French Shoot Down Zeppelin.

Paris, Feb. 22.—A Zeppelin was brought down by French guns in the vicinity of Brabant-le-Roi, in the Meuse, Monday, according to official announcement. The Zeppelin was flying from St. Menchould toward the south, and was attacked by cannon from Reims. It was hit by an incendiary shell, the Zeppelin fell in flames in the vicinity of Brabant-le-Roi.

The statement says:

"The day was marked by a number

BAD COLD? TAKE 'CASCARETS' FOR BOWELS TONIGHT

They're fine! Liven your liver and bowels and clear your head.

No headache, sour stomach, bad cold or constipation by morning.

Get a 10-cent box.

Colds—whether in the head or any part of the body—are quickly overcome by urging the liver to action and keeping the bowels free of poison. Take Cascarets tonight and you will wake up with a clear head and your cold will be gone. Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember the quickest way to get rid of colds is one or two Cascarets at night to cleanse the system. Get a 10-cent box at any drug store. Don't forget the children. They relish this Candy Cathartic and it is often all that is needed to drive a cold from their little systems.

of air flights. Over Tabor, east of Altkirch, one of our aeroplanes, attacking a Fokker at close quarters, fired fifteen shots at him. The enemy machine slipped over on its right wing; then fell.

"In the region of Epinal an Albatros machine was brought down by our artillery fire. In the region of Bures, north of the Forest of Parroy, a German machine, attacked by two of our machines, was brought to earth in our lines. The pilot and passenger were killed.

"A squadron of seven French aeroplanes gave combat to four enemy aeroplanes in the region of Vignettes-Hutton-clinet. Two of the latter were forced to make a landing; the other two took to flight.

"Enemy aeroplanes have bombed Flannes, Reuilly, and Reims. Near the last-mentioned place an enemy squadron composed of fifteen machines was attacked by one of our pursuit squadrons and was forced to give flight. In the course of which a German machine was brought down near Giverny-Argonne. The two aviators were made prisoners. A second enemy aeroplane was pursued into its own lines.

"One of our bombing groups, composed of seventeen machines, dropped sixty-six shells of heavy calibre on the aviation field at Mabsheim and on the freight station at Mulhausen. Another group of twenty-eight machines dropped a number of projectiles on an enemy munitions factory at Fag-sur-Moselle. Following these different operations all our aeroplanes returned to their landing ground.

"A Zeppelin, proceeding from St. Menchould toward the south, was shot by a section of auto-cannon at Reims. Struck by an incendiary shell, the Zeppelin fell in flames in the neighborhood of Brabant-le-Roi."

SIX STORY HOUSE IN PARIS SPLIT BY ZEPPELIN BOMB

Passengers arriving in New York from Bordeaux on the French liner Espana brought some interesting details of the last Zeppelin raid over Paris, on Jan. 31, and declared the official statement that only thirty-six persons were killed was a very low estimate of the fatalities. Dr. Charles A. Pryor of Williamsport, Pa., who served fourteen months with the American ambulance corps in Paris, said he saw the raid on Jan. 31 and was surprised when he heard of the official figure given out, because the surgeons who examined the victims killed by the Zeppelin bombs said that the number was much higher than thirty-six. The pictures show a six-story house in Paris split from roof to cellar by a bomb from a Zeppelin.

SEEK SPIES UP IN THE WHITE MOUNTAINS

Concord, Feb. 22.—A report of the recent movements in the White mountains of a party of Germans, who were formerly under government surveillance, was sent last night by United States Marshal Charles J. O'Neil from his office in this city to United States Attorney Fred B. Brown at Somersworth. The report is based on information that the people whose action have been viewed with suspicion are engaged in secret wireless operations from mountain tops. Their headquarters is at Glen, a village in Jackson, and affords an approach to Mt. Washington. It is on the Maine border, and the altitude is such that Portland harbor is in plain view.

Search Around Glen.

Sportsmen who returned yesterday from a camp at Glen report that Secret Service officials have been working around Glen and Intervale, getting information as to the goings and comings of certain strangers unmistakably Germans.

Marshal O'Neil, when interviewed, admitted that he had received letters, suggesting that the Glen camp was being used as a base for a wireless station.

When the members of the German party whose presence at Glen is again reported, were at Glen late last fall they occupied tents until it grew too cold and then hired a bungalow.

They received numerous express packages and after they departed from Boston mail came and made inquiries of the owner of the bungalow concerning what his tenants had been doing. He wanted to know what sized parcels they shipped away, and if he had any knowledge of the presence of nitroglycerine around the bungalow. Before the citizen would divulge any information he demanded to know whom he was talking to and the visitor showed credentials of the United States Secret Service.

Claim They Are Skiing.

He said he had received instructions from Washington to proceed to Glen at once and make an investigation. The bungalow proprietor was directed to say nothing of what had happened. Within a few days, according to Marshal O'Neil's report, the same party has reappeared at Glen. The party has one new member, who makes the purchases in the store. The new comer told the men from whom he hired quarters that they were skiing around the country and were waiting for weather to climb Mt. Washington. The Germans are now located in two parts of the town. It is said they make frequent trips to Boston, carrying with them apparently far too heavy for ordinary bags. They board the Boston train at the Intervale station.

At present there are but few visitors in the White Mountains. They are in the hands of the snowshoeing parties and fishermen.

MAY REOPEN CANAL SOON

Panama, Feb. 22.—The progress made in removing the debris from the Gull-land Cut has been so rapid during the last two months that it is confidently anticipated an announcement relative to the definite time for the reopening of the Canal will be made within two weeks.

The announcement, however, is not expected to be made in Panama. When the waterway is cleared information to this effect will be cabled to Major General George W. Goethals, governor of the zone, at Washington, and he will declare the Canal again open to traffic.

According to a careful survey just completed there is an average depth of thirty feet throughout the entire cut and a width of probably 250 feet. These figures, however, change slightly daily, owing to the shifting of dredges and also to the continued movement of earth from both banks of the cut. In spite of the short month it is expected that upwards of a million yards of the slide will be removed by the dredges.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double duty. They become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant-effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

UNITED STATES STUDYING COAST DEFENSE

Washington, Feb. 21.—The collapse of the Dardanelles campaign in which it was proven that fewer and less powerful guns can frustrate great fleets has led to a more thorough study of the land defense problem than was ever before made by the war department officials.

Study of the merits of various types of coast defenses has developed a plan now being thrashed out by the war department involving possible adoption of a mobile armament system, which could be made practicable because of the extensive railroad lines along the coasts of the United States.

Brig General Crozier, chief of ordnance of the war department is giving special condition to the subject. Although General Crozier will offer no opinion officially, it is understood that officers of the army are inclined to favor the suggestion that by using mobile armament cars the United States would enhance its chances of preventing the landing of an invading force. It is admitted that the accuracy of a fourteen or sixteen inch shell fired from a concrete foundation on shore would be eight times as great as shots from the same gun on a battleship.

WASHINGTON'S MEMORY HONORED BY D. A. R.

Helen Seavey Quilting Party Entertain and Hear Fine Program

The Helen Seavey Quilting Party held an enjoyable afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred S. Towle Tuesday, in honor of the anniversary of the birth of Washington; sixteen guests in addition to the members of the association being present. The house was beautifully decorated throughout with national flags, portraits of Washington and potted and cut flowers.

Several interesting papers were presented in the program by the several members and Martha Washington was impersonated by Mrs. H. C. Fuller of Greenland.

At the formal meeting resolutions were passed on the death of the late Mrs. Hill, wife of Chief Boatswain William L. Hill, U. S. N., who was a member of the Helen Seavey Quilting Party. Mrs. H. L. Durgin was also elected a member of the Board of Managers. The program included the following papers, and poems, all of which were excellently prepared and finely presented:

By Mrs. C. E. Hodgson, "Washington a Most Popular Name."

By Mrs. Harry K. Torrey, "When Was Washington Born?"

Mrs. W. W. Odjorne, "Valley Forge, where Washington Spent His Saddest Birthday."

Mrs. H. L. Durgin, poem, "The Home and Tomb of Washington."

Mrs. George D. Whittier, paper, "La Fayette and Washington."

Mrs. John G. Parsons, "A New View of Bunker Hill."

Mrs. O. L. Frisbee, "Washington's Sweethearts."

Following the presentation of the program refreshments were served to the guests by the hostess, consisting of tea, assorted cakes and coffee.

Mrs. Charles E. Hodgson's paper was as follows:

Most Popular Name

Washington, seems to be the most popular name in the United States. One state of the Union and the capital of the United States bear that designation. The following states have Washington counties, viz: Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin.

The following states have cities, towns or villages named Washington: Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin.

Nearly all of the big cities and most of the smaller towns have avenues, streets, squares, places or parks named in honor of Washington.

New York has a magnificent memorial arch thus named?

New Hampshire has a town by this name in Sullivan county. Its highest mountain peak has been named Mt. Washington in honor of our first President. Manchester has a Washington Masonic Lodge No. 61. Lancaster, a Washington Eastern Star Lodge. Exeter has had a Masonic Lodge of this name. Portsmouth has the Washington Royal Arch Chapter, established Nov. 18, 1815.

Pennsylvania has a political party, Washington.

Boston's principal street bears this name.

It is a name to be proud of and one that naturally comes first to the patriotic mind when seeking a suitable name for a place.

Mrs. O. L. Frisbee's paper was as follows:

Washington's Sweethearts

At the age of fourteen years Washington wished to enter the navy. His mother opposed, therefore he went on with his school and mathematics.

He was a very bashful young man but in spite of this his fondness for the fair sex would cause him to write lines like the following:

Oh, ye Gods why should my poor restless heart Stand to approve the might and power, In deluding sleepings let my eye, His close, That in an enraptured dream I may In a rapt lulling sleep and gentle repose Passes through joys denied by day.

Washington's later passions were penned in prose.

In a letter to a friend, he says: "At the house where I am stopping is a very agreeable young lady. Being in company with her revives my former passions for your Lowland beauty, whereas was I to live more repressed from women, I might in some measure alleviate my sorrows by burying the elusive and troublesome passion in the grave of oblivion.

Evidently it was not buried at once for he orders a highly fashionable coat, with minutest orders as to its make—on each side six button-holes—the waist from the armpits to the fold to exactly as long, no longer than from thence to the bottom.

The Lowland beauty of whom he spoke is said to have been the mother of General Henry Lee.

In 1755 he visited Boston to consult with General Shirley. He made his journey by horseback stopping in Philadelphia and New York. While in New York he became enamored with a Miss Mary Phillips, the sister of the wife of his host. She was a lady of great beauty and accomplishments.

Washington was so interested in her charms that when military duties called him to Virginia, he entrusted his secret to a friend who was to advise him should a rival appear. After refusing Washington twice, she married Col. Morris.

But again was Cupid on the watch. Washington in 1855 was ordered to leave and make all haste to Williamsburg to explain to the governor and council the desperate condition of the Virginia troops as regarded clothes, etc.

After passing Williamsburg Ferry, they met a hospitable planter who insisted that Washington should at once go to his house to dinner; he accepted the invitation on the condition he should hurry off immediately after dinner.

His horse was brought around in good season and remained until the sun went down, still Washington lingered—then his host declared that no guest was permitted to leave his house after sunset. Not until the next morning did the young colonel take his leave. The cause of his delay, was the charming widow, Martha Custis. The whirlwind courtship which now began would do credit to our twentieth century youths. Whenever he could get an hour to spare when in Williamsburg, he would visit Mrs. Custis, and so prompt was he about this business that when he returned to Winchester, he had her promise to marry him as soon as was convenient. The nuptials are described as having been on the grandest scale, many gentlemen being present in gold lace, but none "looking like the man himself."

From his wedding to his death he wore a miniature of his wife hanging from his neck by a gold chain. He was never happier than when in his home at Mount Vernon with his dear Patsy (as he called her in his letters) her two children and guests.

The poem by Mrs. Alta M. K. Durgin was as follows:

Washington

The home and tomb of our illustrious friend should be inseparable and the glowing words of lament should the glowing words of the lament, must should express the sentiment of every American.

Ay, leave him alone to sleep forever, Till the strong archangel calls for the dead.

By the verdant bank of that rushing river, Where first they pillowed his mighty head.

Lowly may be the turf that covers The sacred grave of his last repose; But oh! there's a glory 'round it have—

Broad as the day break and bright as his close.

The marble pillars were reared above him, Temples and obelisks; rich and rare— Better he dwells in the hearts that love him.

Cold and lone as he slumbers there, Why should ye gather with choral numbers, Why should your thronging thousands come?

Who will dare invade his slumbers, Or take him away from his narrow home?

Well he sleeps in the majesty Silent and stern of awful death! And he who visits him there, should be Alone with God, and his own hushed breath.

Revel and pomp would profane his ashes; And may never a sound be murmured there, But the glorious river that by him dashes, And the pilgrims' voices in the heart Ait prayer.

The following resolutions were passed on the death of Mrs. Hill, wife of Chief Boatswain William L. Hill:

"Whereas Our Heavenly Father has removed from our midst a beloved member, Mrs. W. L. Hill,

Be it resolved, that the Helen Seavey Quilting Party, has lost an esteemed member, whose patriotism was unflinching. The memory of her beautiful character we shall always love. Another link in the chain of fellowship is broken.

Resolved, that the members of the Helen Seavey Quilting Party extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family and may "He who doeth all things well," comfort them.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, also spread on the records of the Quilting Party.
